Is it normal to have cramps this bad

Dear Iris,

I'm 13 yrs old and I started my period over a yr and a half ago. I was wondering if it was normal to have really bad cramps? I feel like I'm going to die. I don't want to go anywhere. I have them all through out my 5 to 7 days is that normal? I don't feel comfortable talking to my mom or my doc. but these cramps really hurt!! I've used pain killers and a heating pad almost everything. I need answers!! Please help!!!!

Sincerely,

Dying of pain!!

Dear Dying of Pain,

You should not be having such intense pain every month. There are prescription medications that may be able to help you. Please discuss this with your mom. Let her know (I'm sure she is already aware) of how much pain you are in. You should be seen by a gynecologist...s/he may not even do an examination...but s/he can prescribe medication to help you. You have woman "problems" and you need to ask for and get help.

Good Luck, Iris, for beinggirl.com, brought to you by Always pads & pantliners and Tampax tampons

Vyvanse gets FDA approval for use in Adults with ADHD

docfm12 Family Medicine Posted Apr 24, 2008 at 10:21 AM

I heard about it and have not used it yet. However I do get many adults who ask me about ADHD symptoms since they wonder if they may have it and had not been diagnosed in past. It is nice to hear that Vyvanse may not function well as an abused drug, because I feel that's what some patients are looking for.

it would have an effect comparable to multiple doses of Dexedrine®. If Adderall XR® helps symptoms such as diminished emotional response, speech, and volition, I would think Vyvanse® would do the same though it might do it more smoothly. Since quality of life varies inversely with the negative symptoms of schizophrenia, it would be useful to see studies of schizophrenics taking Vyvanse®. Of course, I would be wary that Vyvanse® could precipitate psychosis and might not be beneficial when the negative symptoms are secondary to drugs or depression.

Steps to take as you move forward

- Educate your executives and legal department
- Find and network your innovators
- Engage legal early with scenarios
- Start with a limited-scope project
- Include separate resources to manage the effort internally or externally
- Partner with companies like Communispace, Sermo, and WebMD who have experience with projects like these

Indications

- Please ~~call your doctor~~ check the profile of your target market to see if groundswell is right for you.
- Listening is essential – and has a lower incidence of side effects than other forms of groundswell.
- When using groundswell, remember to focus on the interactions among patients (or doctors). It's not about you.
- Groundswell may have long-term effects on your company.
