

New Member Introduction Letter

Welcome to the CAEAP PPG initiative. On behalf of the CAEAP board and leadership team, I thank you for volunteering your efforts to help CAEAP develop the Enterprise Architecture Professional Practice Guide.

CAEAP is a non-profit advocacy group dedicated to the advancement of the EA profession, EA practices and interests of EA practitioners. A faster, leaner marketplace that is increasingly competitive and cost aware requires professionals who have specialized skills and who are experts at cohesively bridging strategic, operational, and technical elements. Enterprise Architects fulfill this requirement. Developing EA capabilities can only be done through specialized training, which involves multiple disciplines and goes beyond the typical undergraduate education, reflective practices, and autonomy in architecting an enterprise. Consistent practices within the profession provide this lynchpin. The EA PPG captures these consistent and standard professional practices.

CAEAP seeks to provide excellent opportunities for its members to contribute, to learn, and develop new relationships in a number of areas. Work-groups are organized on a global basis and volunteers have significant opportunities to share their knowledge and experience with the group. This leads to wide visibility among well-placed peers and deep possibilities for learning at the forefront of professional knowledge. The founders and long-term members of CAEAP represent a store-house of knowledge and experience which is readily shared among team members. Our meetings reflect this willingness to openly share information and seek collegial agreement on the content being developed within the group. Our emphasis is on collaboration and open communications within and among the involved work teams, following jointly agreed and highly workable processes. We invite you to join us and make your contributions to CAEAP and the enterprise architecture profession.

The PPG Kickoff meetings were held 14 September 2009. You can review the PPG Kickoff presentations on the CAEAP website, here. See the PPG Workstream Calendar for details on all upcoming events. Review the following materials to familiarize yourself with this effort:

When you join one of the PPG work teams, your team expects a reasonable level of commitment. This means signing up as an active team member who will work cooperatively to develop / review / update team work products, and actively participate in conference calls and meetings. This also means speaking up when you have knowledge to share or questions/concerns to raise, and actively listening when others share their knowledge. Along the way, we support and encourage enjoyment of the journey of discovery and contribution as part of the CAEAP PPG working team. Humor is always welcome, and a good laugh is well received. You can expect to give six to eight hours a month working on PPG activities. The rewards you receive will be in proportion to your contributions, and the part you take in group activities. Try us and see how it works for you.

As the Relationship Manager, I will coordinate your introduction to CAEAP members. The PMO will closely review your interests and find a Workgroup that best suits you. I'll send an email with your Workgroup assignment after the PMO reviews your submission. Also, expect an email shortly with your SharePoint account information. When possible, send me your picture (in JPEG format) to be included with your profile in our members database.

CAEAP depends on volunteer contributions of time and talent; your commitment is integral and valuable to the advancement of the CAEAP agenda. We appreciate your contributions; our PPG effort cannot succeed without you. As your liaison to the CAEAP team, I will work with you to accommodate your needs and interests. Please contact me at udurai@gmail.com if you have any questions. With your support and dedication, we are working to build a new community and a new profession.

Welcome aboard!
